Student Success Key Practices Feedback

September 22, 2024

Meeting of the SREB Legislative Advisory Council
Charlotte, North Carolina

We Need Your Input

The Southern Regional Education Board works with states to improve public education at every level, from early childhood through doctoral education and the workforce.

The purpose of this session is to get your feedback on a new publication.

SREB Student Success Steering Committee

The Student Success Key Practices Framework was developed by staff members of the SREB Student Success Steering Committee.

Their collective expertise has shaped a valuable resource designed to guide educational institutions, administrators and policymakers in improving student outcomes across the Southern region.

Why do we need a framework for student success?

1. Increase Access for All Students
2. Support Completion and Persistence
3. Align Education with Workforce Needs
4. Facilitate Seamless Transitions
5. Develop Data-Informed Strategies
6. Strengthen Economic Outcomes
7. Implement Holistic Student Supports

Activity 1: Defining Student Success

- Read page 1 of the Student Success Framework Draft.
- Underline words that resonate with you and circle words that evoke questions.
- Discuss at your table what you annotated.
- Let's hear from a few of you!

How to Read the Document

- Four pillars that make up student success:
Access, Retention, Persistence, Attainment
- Each pillar has a definition and four key practices
- Key practices are directed at three different groups:
 - State Level Education Leaders and Policy Makers
 - K-12 Schools
 - Postsecondary Institutions

Activity 2: Examining Key Practices

With your group and SREB scribe:

- Examine your group's assigned pillar of the framework.
- Starting with the pillar definition then moving on to the key practices, discuss what you like, what should be changed, and raise any questions you have.
- Write feedback, comments and questions on the document in front of you or submit them to the SREB scribe.
- Select someone to very briefly share out for your group.
